EDDIE'S TWO SCENTS WORTH...

Spring seems to have backed off a bit on the accelerator. We did see our first baby honkers & the return of the orioles on Nellie's birthday. They are about a week ahead of the usual, but for a while spring was a full month ahead of schedule. We've seen 5 honker families all with pretty large hatches. The biggest group has 10 little ones, & the smallest has 5.

After the rains came it looked like the turtles were making a mass exodus to higher ground; perhaps to lay eggs. We found ourselves on a turtle rescue mission. We found the first turtle way up by the shed & carried her back to the pond. We found the next one on the far side of the house, & back we went to the pond with her. Annie & Nellie kept finding more turtles, & it's a long trip back to the pond, so Gram ended up getting the wheel barrow to put them in. By the time we were done our wheel barrow was more than half full!

The greenhouses are loaded & absolutely a site for sore eyes! This week I have A SPECIAL ON GERANIUMS! We have a beautiful selection of colors & varieties in a 4" pot. This week PAY JUST $3.33 EACH!! If you tell the cashier it's Eddie's Green Paw Special!
